

4. What weaknesses can you identify in your work and how will you address these in the future?

A weakness in my work is probably my presentation skills as I get very nervous beforehand and find it difficult to articulate myself successfully. I found it difficult to think of how I would present myself and to produce contents for my presentation. In the future, I will attempt to come up with more of an interactive and encouraging presentation so less of the focus is on me and more on the contents of what I'm presenting, so it has more of a context to the presentation.

5. Identify five things that you will do differently next time and what do you expect to gain from doing these?

1. I will probably not limit myself as much with the information pack as I was too focused on the context, which was relevant but, this meant that my love of consistency became quite overpowering.
2. I would continue to add more to my PPP Tasks on a more regular basis, maybe perhaps 1 post a day so as to further my collection - just like I have done for the Designer Doc blog from the Design Practice 1 Module.
3. I will try to take part more in group situations so I become more comfortable in speaking to groups of people to aid my presentation skills in the long run.
4. I should attempt to practise my presentation more so I am less panicked and nervous when giving my presentation, putting myself and the audience at ease.
5. I ought to be more reflective of my work, giving a more concise and specific evaluation and perhaps reference other designers or research within this.

6. How would you grade yourself on the following areas:
(please indicate using an 'x')

5 = excellent, 4 = very good, 3 = good, 2 = average, 1 = poor

	1	2	3	4	5
Attendance					x
Punctuality					x
Motivation				x
Commitment				x
Quantity of work produced			x
Quality of work produced			x
Contribution to the group			x

The evaluation of your work is an important part of the assessment criteria and represents a percentage of the overall grade. It is essential that you give yourself enough time to complete your written evaluation fully and with appropriate depth and level of self-reflection. If you have any questions relating to the self evaluation process speak to a member of staff as soon as possible.
