The Special Forces Hand to Hand Fighting Manual contains blocks, strikes and kicks performed in classical Karate/Taekwon-Do stances, using basic Karate/Taekwon-Do footwork. Karate/Taekwon-Do are great self defense systems if thought as such but normally take longer to master than what is the objective of most combatives program. The manual contains a few practical self defense applications that are nothing more than average at best when it comes to effectiveness, simplicity etc. Some weapon ...

The first attempt at organizing and developing the techniques of hand-to-hand combat is believed to have originated in China as a means of unarmed defense against outside invaders. Not much is known about subsequent development; however, historians believe similar systems of fighting were developed by Buddhist Monks around A.D. 1000 as a defense against the numerous robber bands of that time. Judo and Karate are modern forms of these ancient self-defense systems.
